

CASE STUDY

Erlikon Wire Processing S.A., a leading company in welding wire processing based in Thessaloniki (Greece), has been our customer since 2011 and has recently chosen Spazzolplastica's TIG Boxes to improve the storage and transportation of welding rods. Thanks to their durability, practicality, and customization options, TIG Boxes offer a safe and sustainable solution to optimize production processes. Gaitanis Vardis, Production Engineer - Welding Products, shares his experience with us.

What led you to choose Spazzolplastica's TIG
Boxes for storing welding rods?

The supply team of Spazzolplastica is very helpful. Mrs. Confortin has visited our plant and informed us about some new products and some changes that may be made on the existing products. She always give us feedback about the new trends of the market and keep us updated. One more, critical, thing that made us choose Spazzolplastica for the TIG boxes, is that these boxes are completely made of recycled materials. These kind of products fit with the ideology of our company.

Did Spazzolplastica's supply service and delivery of the TIG Boxes meet your expectations?

The supply service team was very informative and communicative, so we manage to customize the boxes on our products' size. Also, the delivery was on time as requested.

Would you recommend Spazzolplastica's TIG
Boxes to other companies? If so, why?

Absolutely, sure! Spazzolplastica team is always available to help and to provide its services. Also, the quality of the final products is completely satisfying.

Customization on size and color

How important is the ability to customize the size and color of the TIG Boxes for you?

It is very important and we are going to get in touch with Spazzolplastica team soon, in order to customize the size of some other products. Also, this customization option was one of the main reasons for choosing Spazzolplastica.

How would you rate the reliability and service provided by Spazzolplastica?

Spazzolplastica is a very reliable company which likes to innovates and goes with the market trends. The services that are offered are always on time and with a high level quality.

Thanks!

WWW.SPAZZOLPLASTICA.IT

sales@spazzolplastica.it

Powered by

